

'round town

with Betty Allen...

A young lady in Blum's dressed in a heavy raincoat with galoshes and a dripping umbrella dangling from one wrist was trying on a wedding veil. The saleslady, head cocked judiciously to one side, was murmuring a masterpiece of understatement: "Of course, with different clothes it will look a LITTLE different."

There's been a steady stream of visitors to the kitchen in the Blue Bell Cafe to inspect the mammoth new refrigerator recently installed. It looks big enough to house a whole steer.

Although Jack Murdock has resigned from the fire department he can't stay away from fires. Monday morning he was on hand at the corner of Campbell and Central to extinguish a car blaze with a CO2 extinguisher.

The Campbell Theater is planning a Kiddie Matinee with subjects just to please the youngsters. It should be a great success and a relief to those parents who sometime wonder if the movies their children are seeing are quite appropriate to their ages.

Field's Grocery Store looks strangely different these days. Both George Jeffers and Dorothy Flanagan are taking it easy after operations at O'Connor Sanitarium. It wasn't really planned to have such an exodus of employees but Dorothy didn't have much chance to argue about an emergency appendectomy. Both are doing nicely while the rest of the staff, which includes a new face at Field's—Dick Jones, carry on.

It is good to see Mrs. Lillian Voge back in town after her illness and to know that she'll be back at the library soon.

James Dent has been having a bad time of it. It seems he was two hours late in a deal which involved selling one house and buying another. As a result the Dents with their two children were left high and dry without a home. They are roosting temporarily in the house of a relative and feeling mighty unhappy.

Next Wednesday the Campbell Chamber of Commerce will hold its monthly meeting. In "Looking Back" this week it can be seen that 135 people attended the monthly meeting 15 years ago. With so many new businesses in existence and planned, with the new problems and opportunities in Campbell today, a larger crowd than that should turn out for this meeting. Matters of interest to everyone will be discussed and everyone will be welcome. Why not try coming?

Grammar School Using New Rooms

The Campbell Grammar school is in the process of moving into its new building of six modern rooms. This will help to relieve the crowded condition of the school, but not alleviate it.

The large elementary school in Campbell is built to accommodate approximately one thousand pupils. With the new addition more than thirteen hundred children are now enrolled.

The board of trustees, with the Ernest J. Kump Co., school consultants, are making a district survey so that intelligent action may be taken to meet school needs.

March of Dimes Starts

Northern California community and civic leaders joined in a "kick-off" luncheon in behalf of the annual March of Dimes drive in San Francisco, Monday, January 7.

Chairmen, co-chairmen and committee workers, all of whom will volunteer their services in the campaign against the dreaded disease attended the meeting as the guests of Joseph M. Schenck, State chairman.

Donations to the drive which opens January 17, will make possible the continuation of work which has benefited nearly a thousand California victims of infantile paralysis during the past year. In that period the March of Dimes has placed the most modern medical techniques at the disposal of children and adults without regard to family income.

The principle speaker of the meeting was Dr. Karl F. Meyer, authority on infantile paralysis, and director of the Hooper Foundation at the University of California Hospital. Joining the noted physician in plans for full support of the drive was Attorney General Robert W. Kenny, chairman of the Northern California division of the campaign; Miss Ethel Johnstone, president of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs; and Dr. J. C. Geiger, San Francisco Director of Public Health, and chairman of the San Francisco Chapter of Infantile Paralysis.

More than 13,000 men, women and children were victims of infantile paralysis in the United States during 1945, officials declared. Seventy-five per cent were under twenty years of age. While few families could meet the cost of extended care, the March of Dimes has provided the finest possible treatment to all sufferers regardless of age, race, creed or color.

Super Market Will Open Soon

Campbell's new super market, built by Carl Bohnett, on Campbell Ave., near Winchester Road, is due to open about the end of February. The construction has been delayed due to shortages of material and labor, but completion is expected soon.

The 50 by 100 foot building will be the latest word in service-yourself markets. Heated by gas, and lighted by fluorescent lights it will contain the most modern equipment in the grocery business. Parking facilities will be available next to the market. Lew Jones of San Jose was the contractor for the building.

W. H. Maderis will manage the market and plans on a full line of groceries, meats, and fresh produce. Experienced in the grocery business, Maderis now makes his home in San Jose, but plans on living in Campbell as soon as housing is available.

Campbell Man Gets Degree

Corp. Jack T. McCarthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McCarthy, Milton Ave., who is due home soon after service in the famed 101st Airborne Division, will bring with him a diploma from Scotland Yard.

While waiting for points and transportation home, he enrolled for the special six-week course offered at Scotland Yard Police Training School and pronounced the course "marvelous".

McCarthy, who is interested in law enforcement, will continue his college education after a 45-day furlough and a discharge. He landed in New York last week aboard the Queen Mary. His twin brother, S/Sgt. Frank J. McCarthy, is an engineer on a B-29 based at Okinawa.

L. Nye Locke Discharged
L. Nye Locke, AM 1/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Locke and grandson of Mrs. A. C. Keesling, Hamilton Ave., has received his discharge after three years' service in the Navy. After a period of time at home he plans on entering aviation work.

Legion Names Settlers Day Committee

Plans for a peacetime Old Settlers Day program were under way at last week's American Legion meeting, when Dave Ribble, Guy Smith and Frank Copeland were named a committee to consult with the Chamber of Commerce and "given the green signal" for an appropriate celebration.

Tentative plans are being formulated and will be announced as soon as possible.

Commander Wilbur Mitchell read a letter from the White House, by President Truman's secretary, in which the local post's resolution was given a presidential blessing. Said resolution called for expenditures for veteran rehabilitation equal to sums sent abroad for relief of occupied and war-torn countries. It was reported that other veteran organizations had presented a similar resolution and the movement was rapidly gaining supporters.

Members of the local high school football team can jot down in their memorandum book a not-too-distant date, when they will be invited to the legion halls for a recognition party.

Fruit Growers To Meet

Of interest to local fruit growers is the all-day Deciduous Fruit Growers Conference to be held in Room B, San Jose Civic Auditorium, Friday, Jan. 18, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension Service and the speakers have been assembled by Winifred Jecker, Home Demonstration agent; G. D. Worswick, Assistant Farm Advisor (Horticulture and Truck Crops); M. S. Beckley, Assistant Farm Advisor (Livestock, Poultry and 4-H Clubs); L. C. Barnard, Farm Advisor (Horticulture and Administration).

The group of speakers represents a large amount of talent and information which growers should find profitable. Scheduled for the morning session are: L. C. Barnard who will speak on the purpose of the meeting; G. B. Alcorn, specialist in marketing, University of California, who will address the group on "Economic Outlook for Fruits and Nuts"; Dr. W. P. Tufts, Division of Pomology at Davis, who will talk on "Deciduous Fruit and Nut Production"; E. F. Serr, specialist in deciduous fruits at Davis, who will discuss "Basic Principles of Irrigation"; and lastly, Dr. A. H. Hendrickson, Division of Pomology at Davis, who will be heard on "Effect of Irrigation Yield and Quality of Pears, Prunes, Walnuts, Etc."

Afternoon speakers and their subjects are: Frank W. Allen, Division of Pomology at Davis, "Effect of Hormone and Oil Sprays on Maturity and Keeping Quality of Pears"; Dr. B. A. Rudolph, Deciduous Fruit Station, San Jose, "Brown Rot and Its Control"; Dr. Edward L. Proebsting, Division of Pomology at Davis, "Fertilizers, Covercrops and Non-Cultivation"; Dr. H. E. Thomas, California Strawberry Institute at Morgan Hill, "Oak Root Fungus and Resistant Root Stocks"; and Lewis Lawler, research specialist for California Packing Corporation, "Use of Carbon Bisulphide in Oak Root Fungus Control".

All speakers have been instructed to allow time for questions and discussions at the end of their talks.

H. G. Schwab Entertains

The Misses Margaret and Frances Hill were two of the party of young people who drove up from Los Angeles to spend the New Year week end at the home of their grandfather, Mr. H. G. Schwab. During a part of their childhood they were Campbell residents.

Safety Poster Contest Announced

California school children, who distinguished themselves in the 1945-46 school safety poster contest by winning five out of eight prizes awarded to states west of the Mississippi River, are again being invited by the California State Automobile Association to participate in a nationwide contest for the 1946-47 series.

Two subjects, "Obey Your Safety Patrol" and "Be Extra Alert on Rainy Days," have been assigned to schools of ten states including California and Nevada, for illustration in the new contest, which is conducted nationally by the American Automobile Association.

A special incentive will be offered this year in the form of a grand prize consisting of a $350 scholarship to an art school of the winner's choice. Forty additional cash prizes totaling $1650 are also to be awarded. The ten first prize winners will be honored by having their posters reproduced and distributed to the schools of the nation next year as part of the AAA safety educational program for school children. In addition these 10 first prize winners will each receive cash prizes of $75. There will also be 10 second prize winners who will receive $50 each, 10 third prize winners, $25 each, and 10 fourth prize winners, $15 each.

Notices setting forth the terms of the contest, together with entry blanks, have been sent by the State Automobile Association to public, private and parochial schools. The contest is open to all students who were born after June 1, 1928. Designs must be submitted by the contestant on or before April 15, and the awards will be made in May by a board of judges headed by Jeremiah O'Connor, Curator of the Corecoran Art Gallery, Washington, D. C. The 10 first prize winning posters are to be reproduced in color and issued to schools at the rate of one each month during the school year. Each prize winning poster will bear the name of the designer and his school.

Kiwanis Club

At Tuesday's Kiwanis luncheon, the installation of officers was the main feature of the program. These officers, named recently in The Press, were installed by Jack O'Keefe, past president of the San Jose Kiwanis Club.

Guests at the meeting were Bert Rudolph, Ed Hunter and Walt Edwards, all of the San Jose club; and Louis Fortaine, of the Nelson Brothers Trucking Company, who was a guest of Bill Weeks. The weekly high school visitor was Tom Miranda.

Next week's chairman will be Everett Nelson, who will present as speaker, George B. Reilly of the State Board of Equalization.

Wedding at Methodist Church

At a simple ceremony, attended only by members of the family, Miss Doris Warning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Warning, was married to Harold Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fox of Riverton, Wyoming, at the Methodist church Tuesday morning at 10:30. The Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne officiated at the service.

The bride, who wore a rose colored suit with a corsage of gardenias, was attended by Miss Claire Warren of Oakland, formerly of San Jose. Best man was Loren Warning, brother of the bride.

A wedding luncheon at the home of the bride's parents on Campbell Ave., followed the ceremony. Relatives who were present included Mrs. Dorcas Warning and her son, Theron Warning of San Jose.

After graduating from the Campbell High school in 1944, the bride attended San Jose State College. Her husband is a Seaman 1/c in the Navy.

Weapon Needed To Quell Epidemics Overseas

Clothing is vitally necessary to combat epidemics in Europe, China and the Philippines according to cabled advices from relief workers in all liberated areas.

The nation-wide clothing drive for overseas relief is being conducted on behalf of UNRRA (the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration), from January 7 to 31st. President Truman said the campaign is imperative.

Cities, the reports state, have been suffering serious epidemics of pulmonary tuberculosis, bacillary dysentery, typhoid fever, diphtheria, pneumonia, scabies and various skin diseases caused by exposure and malnutrition.

In France where the war left two million people homeless, the infant death rate has climbed to 75% of the country's birth rate. The bombed-out people of Holland are living in chicken runs and leaky shacks, and are suffering from skin ailments. From Greece come letters telling of thousands living in mountain caves.

One such letter says: "For twenty-three months we did not see the sun. Now we have come back to the village, but it has been burnt from one end to the other. We have built some shacks from trees. The women are practically naked. They are ashamed to walk around out doors. The men wear loin cloths made of burlap. We have no clothes. We don't know what it means any more to wear shoes. The only help we ask is for shoes and clothing to cover our nakedness."

A cablegram from China stated: "Bed-ridden and helpless persons having no change of garments suffer dysentery, cholera and similar infectious diseases with the result they are lying in indescribable filth which is likely to reinfect them and to contaminate others. The sick, helpless and even well persons often are drenched and have no dry clothing."

"The cold weather adds the threat of gangrene and deaths from exposure. Finally, the serious need for clothing extends to normal self-sufficient classes, particularly white collar, educational and governmental employees whose income has fallen sharply below living costs. These groups have long since sold needed clothing as well as other possessions to secure funds for food."

From Czechoslovakia, where the winters are severe, a relief worker reports that children have to pool their clothes. To permit one child to go out two must remain in bed. The vice-Lord-Mayor of Prague had only one dress to wear.

The wife of a university professor writes from Belgium: "When you speak of Ordinary Things in your packages you do not realize our absolute lack of Ordinary Things, and that even a common handkerchief is a gift of importance to us. There has not been one single thing sent to us that has not given joy and made us feel grateful and touched. The children are happier with a pair of shoes or socks or a pretty colored sweater than with lollipops!"

Americans contributed sufficient clothing, shoes and bedding in the nation-wide clothing drive of April, the United National Clothing Collection, to aid 25,000,000 people in Europe, China and the Philippines. Supplementing the U. S. contributions, the people of Canada, Australia and New Zealand have given approximately 20 million pounds of used clothing for overseas relief. But UNRRA reports that millions of other war victims are suffering and dying from lack of clothes.

To help meet these needs, the Victory Clothing Collection was organized. The American people are asked to contribute 100,000,000 serviceable used garments, with shoes and bedding in addition. Contributions will be shipped overseas promptly.

Bucs Travel, Bring Home Little Bacon

It was a sleepy, weary group of basketball players that returned home late Saturday night from a barnstorming trip to Monterey and Hollister.

Three carloads pulled out from the local high school Friday afternoon, arriving in Monterey about 6:30.

In the preliminary game, our lightweights fought a close saw battle up into the fourth quarter, at which time, with the score tied at 12-12, a Monterey substitute center scored a field goal and free-throw to give them a 15-12 decision.

The varsity game was also anybody's game up until the last two minutes. Trailing, 11-15 at half-time Campbell came back fast to pull ahead, 18-15, before Monterey was able to score at all. Into the fourth quarter the teams stayed evenly matched until a final spurt gave Monterey their second win, 38-31.

The game was "slightly marred" by rough play on the part of the host team and by slippery spots on the floor caused by a leaky roof.

The two teams, with their coach, Walt Hill, stayed overnight in a Monterey hotel. Needless to say, with four boys to a room, no one slept too much. By noon they had finished breakfast and started a tour of the Peninsula. They visited Point Lobos, Carmel, and the Seventeen Mile Drive before "pulling out" for the second pair of games at Hollister Saturday evening.

The "Thirties" started very slowly. Half-time score was 3-3. In the second half, with Don Ervin leading the offense, the local

New Hardware Store Opens

Considered by a wholesale hardware company as "fifteen years ahead of its time in modern display methods", the Cambrian Hardware Company, San Jose-Los Gatos Road, opened its doors last week for business. The interior of the building is decorated in an unusual shade of blue with the display tables painted the same color. Lighting is fluorescent and all the fixtures are in keeping with the streamlined appearance of the store.

Many large baskets of flowers, sent by well-wishing friends add gaiety to the displays.

A large sliding door separates the store from the feed department, which is large and airy.

The new establishment, built on the site formerly occupied by the Pepper Tree Feed store which burned on V-J Day, is owned and operated by Frank Coombs and G. A. Horton. They plan on carrying full lines of hardware, feed, home appliances and household ware.

boys picked up the only win of the trip, 12-10. Ervin scored 9 points to win the high-point honors.

Things looked good at the start of the varsity game. Campbell led Hollister, 9-1, at the quarter, and 14-9 at the half-time period, but a hot gang of Haybalers came back to score 14 points in the third quarter to lead, 23-15. Each team scored 2 points in the fourth quarter to make the final: Hollister 25, Campbell 17.

Varsity boys making the trip were: Kosich, Meyer, Estrada, Buck, Adams, Gazay, Nelson, and Villafuerte. On the light-weight squad were: Fish, Ervin, Geraci, Nelson, Corsiglia, Savstrom, Favalde, Glead and Reider.

Courage is always greatest when blended with meekness; intellectual ability is most admirable when it sparkles in the setting of a modest self-distrust; and never does the human soul appear so strong as when it foregoes revenge and dares to forgive an injury.—Chapin.

The follies, vices, and consequent miseries of multitudes, displayed in a newspaper, are so many admonitions and warnings, so many beacons, continually burning, to turn others from the rocks of which they have been shipwrecked.—Bishop Horne.

This undertaking is wholly unselfish and serves all persons alike regardless of their race or creed.

Let us get behind the campaign. Let us, in the spirit of goodwill, help to spread happiness and cheer to those in need of help. Donate your dimes—or dollars—today.

TRUMAN DUCKS QUESTION OF SECOND TERM

WASHINGTON.—Pres. Harry Truman isn't sticking his neck out on the 1948 political race—yet.

Democratic Rep. Edward Herbert of Louisiana and Mayor Robert Maestri of New Orleans discovered this when they called at the White House the other day.

Maestri reminded Truman that the Louisiana delegation was among the first to support him for Vice President at the 1944 Democratic convention in Chicago. Then he added:

"We hope to cast our votes for you for President at the next convention."

Truman chuckled good-naturedly but that was all.

"All I can say to that, he replied, 'is that I'm just doing a job here from day to day and letting the future take care of itself.'"

CLOTHING FOR VETERANS

Chief dilemma faced by the returning war veteran when it comes to new clothes is that either he will get clothes or his wife and sweetheart will get them. There aren't going to be enough for both.

In this choice between man and wife there is no question as to where the U. S. government stands, at least in theory—on the side of the man. He has been away fighting, his old clothes are moth-eaten and he deserves something to wear. Getting them for him, however, may be another matter.

Bottleneck of the entire problem boils down to linings. Wool clothing for men must have linings. This means rayon and cotton. At present the wool and worsted situation is improving and there probably will be almost enough for 1946.

But rayons and cottons are different. In the first place most of their production was allocated to war uses and it takes some time to get mills reconverted. Second, and here is where the sex problem comes in, most of the rayon and cotton now available for civilian use has been going to women.

In other words, women are getting the rayon blouses, the slips, the undies and other things they like to wear. Meanwhile the much more prosaic but absolutely necessary lining for men's suits is left out in the cold. In addition, hosiery manufacturers are even asking for, and getting, a lot of rayon poundage for stockings, despite the fact that nylon is coming back.

Chief reason for this channeling of clothes to women, despite the needs of veterans, are:

1. Higher prices and more profits in women's apparel. Men's clothing manufacturers blame this on OPA.

2. The War Production board last fall issued priorities on cotton and rayon in order to spur production of medium-priced clothing, but for some strange reason entirely omitted the bottleneck of men's suits—linings.

Since then the WPB has been abolished, but its successor, the Civilian Production Administration, if anything, perhaps, has done a little worse. Well-meaning Herbert Rose, head of the CPA textile division, who has sublime faith in the efficacy of priorities under any and all circumstances, has proceeded to grant priorities to "hardship" cases for coat linings. By the end of November, 160 "hardship" cases had received lining priorities from Washington alone with scores of other priorities issued by CPA branch offices, making the whole situation more snarled than ever.

Meanwhile, Frank Chester Bowles, who has done more to protect the American consumer than any one else in Washington, readily admits that he has made a mistake in clothing. His problem, however, is whether to get an army of women's clothing dealers on his neck by decreasing the ceilings on women's clothes, or whether to boost the price of clothes for men by allowing higher price ceilings on their clothes.

One or the other probably will be necessary even in addition to the plan for voluntary rationing of men's clothing and the issuing of clothing certificates to men at separation centers.

Now we in this country have a great form of government and a great basic concept of getting along with our neighbors. And it's

Amusing Comedy On Monday

"Dear Ruth", the most delightful and enchanting comedy of recent years by almost unanimous vote of critics, from New York to the coast, has one performance in San Jose on next Monday evening, Jan. 14. "It will run at least until the end of the next generation", "Uproariously funny", "One of the delights of the season", are a few of the comments of New York critics.

With Philip Ober, Marjorie Gatenon, Rande Sanford, Russell Hoys, as principals, and Peggy Romano heading a brilliant supporting cast, "Dear Ruth" has scored heavily during its eight weeks at the Geary Theater in San Francisco. Norman Krasna, author, is the author of such films as "Princess O'Rourke" and "Practically Yours" while the director, Moss Hart, is author of "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and "Lady in the Dark". The producers are Joseph M. Hyman and Bernard Hart.

San Carlo Opera Festival in San Jose

A festival of grand opera by the San Carlo Opera Company has been arranged for San Jose by the Denny-Watrous Management. The great Coe Glade, of whose Carmen the New York Herald-Tribune said last spring, "One of the most fascinating impersonations heard here in many seasons... she delineated the capricious, alluring seductress with unerring effect", sings the title role. Sydney Raynor as Don Jose, Stephan Ballarini as the bull-fighter, a strong supporting cast, chorus, orchestra and ballet make a spectacular production.

Russian Ballet by the Ballet Theater comes to San Jose on Monday evening, Jan. 28. Tickets for all events are on sale at the Denny-Watrous box office, San Jose auditorium.

Reconversion Problem

Reconversion problems were under the scrutiny of the California Legislature today as a special session called by Gov. Earl Warren got into full swing.

Warren recommended financial assistance to cities and counties in coping with the housing emergency, legislation to increase the vocational training opportunities of veterans and other special session action.

He asked for extension of the Unemployment Insurance Act to provide for payments when inability to work is caused by illness. Unless this is done, Warren said, men and women who work continuously for many years on one job may never derive any benefits from their unemployment insurance premiums.

The amendment to the act also would help small business concerns which, because of a close personal relationship with their employees, sometimes continue them on the payroll when ill even though it represents a financial hardship.

California can do this, the Governor added, because the Unemployment Insurance Fund has been built up to $750,000,000, which statisticians say is "ample to take care of the worst possible unemployment situation and still leave about $300,000,000 in the fund."

Officials of the State Employment Department said California is one of only four states in the Union which requires employees to pay unemployment insurance premiums. In all other states, the entire premium is paid by the employer.

"California can afford to improve its Unemployment Insurance Act in this way without asking for an additional contribution from anyone," Warren said.

"In my opinion, a workman needs unemployment insurance compensation far more when he is ill than when he is well."

In his opening message to the Legislature, Warren said that California "is now largely on its own again." During the war, the pattern of living and government was nationwide.

"Now the controls and the directives in many instances have been abolished, and forces that had been largely guided are seeking their own channels once more. What our country is able to do about national problems depends at least to some extent on action in the states and communities."

The Governor compared the present housing shortage to a crisis caused by "fire, flood or other calamity," and said the governments of the State and United States, as well as cities and counties, should help in providing emergency living quarters.

At the same time, he warned against adopting "expedients that eventually would create slum conditions."

Dr. Reinhardt's Lecture

Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt's first lecture of a series which she is presenting Saturday afternoons in the San Jose State College Theater was not so much a play-by-play analysis of the charter developed at the San Francisco Conference as a general review designed to interest her hearers to study the document for themselves.

As she said about her college student, she had wanted them to study to form their own opinions and not to quote what others had said or written; so, in respect to the Charter she remarked, "I want you to get your point of view, not mine."

As a consultant at the Conference she met many of the world's great representatives and related interesting notes about some of them. This conference was not called to formulate working plans for the various departments but to make a body of agreements by which future international problems arising from racial, religious, economic and political conditions could be solved and so was created the method by which lasting peace might be brought to pass.

Grammar School PTA

Mrs. Rex Fuller conducted the first meeting in 1946 of the Campbell Grammar school PTA unit on Tuesday, Jan. 8.

She then introduced the speaker, Mrs. Dana Thomas, who spoke about "The Forces That Effect the Feeling of Security in Children."

The seventh grades were the hostesses and served the refreshments.

Mrs. Mabel Davidson's 4th grade class had the most mothers present.

The Book Mark

by vivian

If you are going to have any news of what is inside the new books, it looks like I, The Book Mark, will have to take over the job of writing it down for you. My latest adventure was darting through the pages of the latest Mr. and Mrs. Cugat story called "Outside Eden" by Isabel Scott Rorick. This book is just as funny as the first written about the most human Mr. and Mrs. Cugat. That was one of the most amusing books I ever had the pleasure of marking.

"Outside Eden" gets off to a good start with a very vivid account of Mr. Cugat's ability as a handy man around the house. The shelves he built in the cellar for the canned fruit and jams, will remind many a Mrs. of her own husband's well-meant "handiness" about the house.

Mrs. C. as you remember, is quite a marksman and she is invited to shoot ducks at Bay Beach, an exclusive man's club. There was no hard and fast rules about no women, but each member was allowed one guest a season, so very few women ever rated an invitation. Mrs. C. won the Willis P. Parmenter open skeet shoot, which so pleased Mr. Willis P. Parmenter that he invited her to be his guest at the club. Mr. C. was proud of her, but not quite that proud. What could he do, but just tag along, and needless to say, the club was somewhat upset by the presence of a lady. Mrs. Cugat wasn't very comfortable either. In the duck blind the next day she behaved just as you would expect a woman to behave. Shooting sad eyed ducks is a little different from shooting clay pigeons, she discovered very much to Mr. C's disgust.

Then there's Mrs. Cugat's

Pundita Circle

The Pundita Circle met Wednesday, Jan. 2, at the home of Mrs. Fred Stephens with Mrs. G. A. Rucker as co-hostess. Mrs. Stanley Smith, president, presided over the short business meeting.

Miss Maryan Rucker was then introduced and gave a most interesting talk about her experiences as a Wave and as an aerial gunnery instructor at Pensacola, Florida. Miss Rucker has now resumed her position as art teacher in the Palo Alto schools.

The next regular meeting of the Pundita Circle will be Jan. 30 with Mrs. Wilbur Mitchell as hostess.

Greens Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. George Green and Mrs. Mary Wooldridge have returned from a trip north where they spent Christmas in Wenatchee with the Greens' son, Willis Green, and New Year's in Seattle and Bremerton with relatives.

mother. A very nice little old lady who just won't stay put. She gets into one thing and then another, until she brakes down Mr. C's resistance, and he consents to let her open the big house in Florida, even though he knew she could not very well stand the expense.

"Humor Thy Mother-in-law" is the name of that chapter.

Another chapter I remember as being rather funny is the one about the hiring of a new maid. Mrs. C's maid-of-all-work quit to take a position in an essential industry so Mrs. Cugat had a very difficult time finding someone to take the place of faithful Anna who had put up with the Cugat's since their marriage. Finally, after much phoning and many interviews of Mrs. Cugat, by prospective help, the employment bureau, phoned to say they had a colored woman on the list, did Mrs. Cugat want to come down to talk to her. Mrs. Cugat quickly said send her out, no questions asked. This is where Vanilla and Junior (unbargained for) enter the respectable household of our friends the Cugats. More hilarious than any of the rest of the book is the account of the luncheon Vanilla served in her grey fedora and small mink cape, which she wears while cooking as well as serving. During this luncheon the police show up to take Junior away with them. It seems that they have been looking for him for some time. A little matter of Junior having done away with a lady he had taken a dislike to, and it was just as well 'cause Junior didn't think very much of Mr. Cugat.

This sort of thing goes on right to the last page of the book. It's chuck full of chuckles. The illustrations by alajalov are most enjoyable. Marking Jane's place in this book was a pleasure. I hope we read another just as amusing before too long.
